I am delighted to introduce you to XLRI and welcome you to this esteemed institution.

XLRI was established in 1949, soon after the independence of India and joined in spirit and action the selfless patriots and great leaders of India in building the nation. It focused on training people who can shape the destiny of India with competence and dedication. XLRI continues to have the same vision – to train leaders who will excel in competence, personal values and social concern.

Today leaders have to be dynamic achievers, ethically sound and service oriented. There is no place for mediocrity and ambiguity. The corporate sector has become pan-world. We have to view the larger picture. 'Excellence' should be a way of life in whatever we do.

'Excellence and Integrity' is the motto of XLRI, derived from the principle of Magis – ever greater, ever better, excellence. We try to translate excellence through academic excellence, value excellence and social excellence. This means we are not only concentrating on knowledge development, but also on personal, spiritual and social development. This is the integral formation we offer to students. Our focus is to transform them into 'change agents' who will bring about a significant change in the lives of the poor and the marginalised. Our emphasis is to mould them into corporate leaders who will not just make a difference to the organisation that will recruit them, but will fulfill all their duties towards corporate social responsibility. It is here that good management education can accomplish so much. This is our pledge.

XLRI tries to meet the needs of various segments of people by offering a variety of programmes. Besides our flagship two-year Postgraduate Programmes in Business Management and Human Resource Management, we offer full-time, one-year General Management Programme for executives, three-year, part-time programme in Business Management in Jamshedpur, and one-year, part-time VIL programmes.

I welcome you to Jamshedpur, the first planned city of India, the cleanest and most hospitable city. Jamshedpur offers excellent sports and recreational facilities, and a sylvan environment.

You will get ample opportunity to interact with national and international leaders from every walk of life and learn the problems and prospects ahead of you and available to you. These interactions combined with your classroom inputs will help you to opt for a career you dream of.

I welcome you to join the nation builders to build a nation which can lead the world intellectually, emotionally and spiritually.

Fr. E. Abraham, S.J.
VISION
To be an institution of excellence nurturing responsible global leaders for the greater common good and a sustainable future

MISSION
• To disseminate knowledge in management through a portfolio of educational programs and publications
• To extend frontiers of knowledge through relevant and contextual research
• To nurture responsive ethical leaders sensitive to environment and society
• To encourage critical thinking and continuous improvement
• To inculcate a culture of innovation and entrepreneurship

VALUES
Inspired by the Jesuit spirit of “Magis”, XLRI will be guided by the following values:
• Ethical Conduct
• Integrity and Trust
• Passion for Excellence
• Sensitive Social Conscience
• Inclusiveness and Tolerance
• Creativity and Innovation
• Global Mindset
The Genesis and Journey over 60 Years

XLRI was founded in 1949 by Fr Quinn Enright, SJ, in the Steel City, Jamshedpur, soon after Independence. The country was undergoing a political, economic and social transformation. Fr Enright visualised XLRI to be a partner in this liberation and development journey. His vision was to renew the face of the earth through XLRI.

Together with Fr Bill Tome, Fr Edward McGrath and other Jesuit companions, he worked tirelessly towards translating this vision into reality.

The Jesuit Society has been guiding the activities and affairs of the institute since 1949. The forces that made it possible for XLRI to realise the vision were (1) Commitment to magis – to strive for better, to excel; (2) Conviction through discernment – a decision making process which is not self-centered but God-centered and (3) Courageous execution of the decisions because it was God’s work. The hallmark of this culture is, not to walk on the beaten path, but to strike new routes; not to benchmark, but to be benchmarked; to be second to none, but to be the first to respond to the needs of the people and the nation. It is this enterprising and pioneering spirit that sets XLRI apart from other management schools. XLRI has always had a global outlook. It was the first to internationalise its programmes. Renowned personalities have been a part of the institute quo for meaning and wisdom in life; (b) Values — imbibe and stand for ethical and social values, even in the midst of squalor, corruption, opposition and above all human loneliness and (c) Social concern for people – to be at the service of the needy. Integrity should permeate all the three aspects, one’s thoughts, feelings and actions.

XLRI is a beacon of light, not just a degree but one that inspires students to respond to the unmet needs of the society. The single-most characteristic that sets apart XLRI students, is magis — the zeal to do better, never to be satisfied with being a mediocre and aspire to excel. He/she relentlessly strives for more, for something greater and better. Instead of wishing circumstances to change and be different, magis-driven persons either make them different or make most of them.

Instead of waiting for golden opportunities to come along, they turn all that is in hand into gold. Magis should be reflected in every Xler in three areas (a) Academic excellence – learning not for grades but for knowledge and wisdom. A genuine thirst for knowledge, questioning the status During the initial years of its growth, XLRI developed and organised several management courses for trade unions. In 1953, a two-year, day programme in Industrial Relations and Welfare was started which has been re-christened to Human Resource Management. Since then, XLRI has added many more academic programmes and has expanded its infrastructure to meet the growing demand. A three-year, evening programme in Business Management was started in 1965, while the two-year, full-time programme in Business Management was launched in 1968. In responding to the demand of the corporate and public sector, a one-year General Management Programme for working executives was launched in 1997. To disseminate quality management education to executives working in different cities, the Virtual Interactive Learning (VIL) arm of XLRI offers a portfolio of 12-month consolidated programmes in different functional areas of management. A Postgraduate Certificate in Business Management was started in 2002 and Postgraduate Certificate in Human Resource Management in 2003.
Keeping true to its vision, XLRI strives to offer an education which is not just leading to a degree, but one that inspires students to respond to the unmet needs of the society.

Learning Centre

The new learning centre is meticulously designed to create spaces that support learning and encourage lively discussions. There are 15 classrooms, each with a capacity for 75, and six syndicate rooms (50-60 seaters each). Auditoriums

The campus has three state-of-the-art auditoriums, fully air-conditioned. Two of these auditoriums have a seating capacity of about 150 each. These auditoriums play host to internal student events, guest lectures and seminars, and the famed XLRI Student General Body Meetings. The Tata Auditorium, the biggest of the three, has a capacity of about 1,500, and is known in music circles to have one of the finest acoustic systems in the region. The Tata Auditorium hosts all major events ranging from Annual Convocation, Ethics Oration and Ensemble. It has played host to a huge number of performances by eminent personalities from India and abroad.

The courses are designed to develop and enhance
- The analytical, problem solving and decision making abilities,
- The awareness of the socio-economic environment, and
- The personality with socially desirable values and attitudes

The BM Programme equips the students with an integrated approach to management function and managerial skills. The programme also provides an opportunity to concentrate in one or two of the functional areas (viz. Economics, Finance, Information Systems, Marketing, Production, Operations & Decision Sciences and Strategic Management).

To fulfill the requirement of area(s) of concentration, a student is required to do at least five electives in that particular area.

The HRM Programme facilitates learning in concepts, techniques and practices in the management of human resources in addition to exposing the student to different functional areas of management to enhance the effectiveness.

Since the HRM programme is a specialized programme in itself, there are no separate Areas for concentration.

The BM / HRM Programme: The total credits for HRM program shall be a minimum of 108 and BM program shall be a minimum of 105. A maximum of 114 credits is permissible. The nine credits or 3 extra courses for BM, could be anything that students want to study as audit courses. In HRM, six credits or two extra courses, could be anything that students want to study as audit courses. For PGD HRM program, one of the three extra courses is the core course titled MIS which will be offered to students in the 1st year. [For the students of PGD HRM, the MIS core course will be taught in the first Term with one credit portion. The remaining two credits shall be covered in Term III] and a Summer Project.

Eligibility

During the first year of the Business Management Programme, students learn basic concepts in the areas of Finance and Accounting, Human Resource Management, Marketing, Organizational Behaviour, Systems, Production and Quantitative Techniques.

These core courses help students appreciate the interdependency of the various functional areas and integrate them while addressing problems in the business context.

During second year, students can pursue elective courses dealing with the functional areas of their interest.

During the first year of the Human Resource Management Programme, students are given exposure to the courses directly related to HRM such as Labour Law, Industrial Relations, Organizational Behaviour and Human Resource Development, with a package of courses in basic subjects as well as other functional areas of management. Students are also given exposure to the socioeconomic environment, ethical and legal frameworks within which business operates in India.

Team Building & Village Exposure Programme

The programme includes overnight camping and other outdoor activities. Attendance to the team building programme is compulsory for the students.

A village exposure programme is also mandatory for the students. The students are expected to stay in the villages. They would be expected to study some of the practices and issues relating to rural India.

Summer Project

At the end of the first year, all students of the BM and HRM programmes are required to undertake a project in an organization as an integral part of the curriculum. Students work on live assignments for various organizations which gives the students an opportunity to sharpen their knowledge and skills, develop better appreciation of the practical problems of business organizations in general and the management in particular. The Summer Projects help the students plan their professional career in the light of the practical experience gained during the eight to ten week period.

Academic Evaluation System

The Institute's evaluation system is designed to continually assess the students' performance in relation to the required standards of academic achievement. Apart from examinations, a student's performance is assessed on the basis of class participation, preparation of periodic assignments, midterm tests and surprise quizzes. The Institute expects a minimum standard for promotion to the second year and for the award of the Diploma. Failure to meet the minimum standards of performance at any time would require a student to discontinue from the programme.

The Pedagogy

The pedagogy followed in all the Programmes at the Institute include:

- Classroom Lectures and Group work
- The Case Method
- Project Work and Assignments
- Term Papers and Industrial Visits
- Simulation Games, Role Play and Audio Visuals

However, floating of any given elective course is dependent on the market requirement, minimum number of registrations and other related factors. Emphasis in the electives is laid on application of knowledge and case discussions. Electives may also require students to undertake research studies in their field of interest and specialisation as term papers / project work.

Convocation

At the convocation the awards for excellence in academic performance are also given to those students who excel in their studies. The tentative list is given below. *Half-Credit Course
Knowledge and continuous learning is the mainstay amongst the best organizations of today. In order to satisfy this thirst for knowledge and to become a learning organization, XLRI has evolved a fifteen months consolidated programme in general management with the objectives of providing the practicing managers a substantial exposure to theoretical foundations in management as well as to provide them a holistic perspective of business in such a way that they are not only equipped with tools and techniques to perform their task effectively but also to shoulder greater responsibilities in the future as they move up the hierarchy.

The Institute awards the Postgraduate Diploma in Management [General Management] to the participants who successfully complete all the requirements of this programme.

Eligibility
Candidates applying for General Management Programme must hold a minimum of three years Bachelor’s Degree from a recognized University in India/abroad in any discipline, be employed in a full-time job, must have at least five years of relevant managerial experience as on March 31, 2018 in an organization of repute in the public, private or non-governmental sector after completing graduation.

Curriculum
The AICTE recognized 15 months programme currently consists of Core and Optional/Elective courses specially designed for fast track executives with work experience. They provide the essentials of management education with the flexibility of individual exploration in their chosen area of interest. The entire programme spans for about 780 minimum and 880 maximum contact hours in class. The programme encourages, supports and provides enough scope to the participants for self study.

The programme starts with induction for initiating the participants with XLRI’s culture and refreshing the fundamentals for better appreciation of the courses to follow.

Thereafter the participants undergo the core courses as building blocks essential for management education. Currently the core courses are categorized into seven major areas, Finance, Marketing, Production, Operations and Decision Sciences, Information Systems, Human Resource Management, Organizational Behaviour, Economics and Strategic Management, providing not only the essentials of management but also the core functional skills. The core course curriculum also includes Soft Skills workshop, Industry Interfaces and Integrated courses.

Successful completion of the core courses paves the way for the elective courses, chosen by the participants, helping them to further their areas of interest. Our effort has always been to provide a wide range of electives with a cutting edge focus in areas of relevance in grooming tomorrow’s business leaders. These are organized into six functional areas of Finance, Marketing, Production, Operations and Decision science, Human Resource Management, Information Systems, Economics and Strategic Management. Students are allowed to choose electives from a list of offered electives. A minimum number of participants should opt for a specific elective to be offered.

The programme and the courses, both core and optional, are continuously restructured to make them contemporary to the changing scenario in management education.

Field-Based Training
It is compulsory for all students to undergo three-month field based training after completing the 12 months campus component. Majority of GMP students would join different companies after completing the academic requirements. During the first three months in those companies, the students are required to do a project work and obtain a satisfactory certificate from the company. Rest of the students are allowed to fulfill the requirements by undergoing a project work under the guidance of a faculty mentor. A student will be eligible for the diploma only after obtaining the successful completion certificate of the three-month field based training.

Academic Evaluation System
The Institute’s evaluation system is designed to continually assess the students’ performance in relation to the required standards of academic achievement. Apart from examinations, a student's performance is assessed on the basis of class participation, preparation of periodic assignments, mid-term tests and quizzes. As specified in the manual of Policies, the Institute expects a minimum standard for the award of the Diploma.

CAMPUS LIFE AT XLRI
Life at XL is a vibrant blend of class lectures, study sessions, management fests and competitive sports meets. The unique XL culture springs from its closely knit student community. An environment of caring and sharing is what makes this B-school different. Despite a highly competitive spirit amongst students to excel academically, the atmosphere outside the classroom is one of great comradeships. A fresher is greeted with warmth and is made a part of the student fraternity. An intense academic rigour and an incredible phenomenon called the XL culture together make up for a hectic yet heady concoction of work and play. As all programmes are residential, the seniors and juniors share an amicable relation. It is hence no surprise that XLRI has the most extensive alumni network among all Indian B-schools.

Team work is stressed throughout your life at XL. In fact the environment of bitter rivalry among students that traditionally prevails in B-schools has been removed through conscious efforts by the institute. Instead, an atmosphere of collaboration and cooperation has been carefully nurtured over the years and this makes XLers excellent team players and leaders in every organisation that they become a part of.

In addition to this, XLRI lays great emphasis on ethics and on social responsibility. The institute is highly regarded in the corporate world for its efforts to instill these qualities in tomorrow’s business leaders. Built into the curriculum are novel concepts like the Village Exposure Programme that develop social awareness by taking every student back to their roots.

For an Xler there is something happening at XL all the time. There are conferences, seminars, guest lectures and workshops where a student is exposed to diverse views, opinions and ideas of many of the greatest minds in the world of business. Yet, a good part of the XL life will not just be academic. There is the marketing extravaganza – MAXI fair, the annual management fest; Ensemble and XL-IIMC sports meet.

A student, irrespective of his/her stream, always finds an opportunity to explore every interest. Innovation is religion at XL and a little initiative can take you a long way. The formal and informal committees at XLRI take full advantage of this freedom and involve the XLers in numerous activities that helps one to experiment and explore new management avenues.

Centre for e-Business
Established in 2004, the Center for e-Business is the most recent industry-institute interfacing initiative of XLRI. The centre carries out leading edge research in e-Business and papers published in well-known scholarly journals as well as conferences and trade magazines. The various research areas include e-Business Strategy, Enabling Technologies, e-Supply Chain Management, e-Customer Relationship Management, Knowledge Management, Human Resource Information System (HRIS), Internet Security and other related areas.

Centre for Education Management, Leadership and Research
(CEMLR) was established in 1980 at XLRI, Jamshedpur with the primary aim of serving the most significant and largest enterprise in the country, viz., education – to help innovate teaching methodology, develop relevant course designs and curricula, and to impart effective management techniques to principal stakeholders of educational institutions.

Centre for Financial Markets
The Financial Market Centre (FMC) at XLRI is devoted to research, training and consulting needs of the Indian financial services industry. The research agenda of the centre focuses on the broad areas of financial markets such as equity market, derivative markets, market microstructure issues, securities market regulations and investment banking.

Centre for Human Resource Development (CHRD)
The centre for HRD (CHRD) undertakes research, conducts training programs and organizes conferences to support the knowledge creation and dissemination in the area of Human Resource Management. CHRD has pioneered a number of initiatives such as housing of the first secretariat of National HRD Network, starting the NHRD Newsletter, conducting HRD conferences, etc. Research in the area of Organizational Career Development, Webinar series on topical areas as well as Blended International conference on Competency Measurement are some of the areas that the centre is focusing in the current year.

Centre for Logistics and Supply Chain Management (CLSCM)
The Centre for Logistics and Supply Chain Management in XLRI was set up to cater the growing challenges in logistics/supply chain management. The centre provides leadership for evolving logistics/supply chain profession through development, dissemination and advancement of logistics and supply chain knowledge.

Centre for Rural Management
XLRI established the Centre for Rural Management in 1992 with the objective: to build new rural management knowledge; create a new breed of leaders who have capability of making Indian rural society vibrant and identify constraints and impediments of rural development. The centre’s mandate is to create leaders and change agents for the development of an equitable and just society for women, children and the underprivileged.

Centre for Small Enterprises
The Centre was set up in 1995 to serve as a nodal agency in the Eastern Region for the promotion of entrepreneurship and the effective management of small and medium sized Enterprises (SMEs) in India. It acts both as an incubator for small enterprise startups and a business development service centre for existing SMEs. Its activities include research, database development, training and consultancy on issues of interest to new startups existing SMEs, closely held family businesses, women entrepreneurs and voluntary agencies and government departments working in the area of enterprise development. It functions through effective networking with banks, industry associations and government and non-government agencies.

Entrepreneurship Development Centre
The Entrepreneurship Development Centre was established in 2007 to promote entrepreneurship largely through education and research. A full-time, six-month Post Graduate Programme for Certificate in Entrepreneurship Management (PGP-CEM) was launched during the academic year 2009-10. This programme has been designed to provide competency-based education to eligible candidates.

This year the programme has been reviewed and re-designed to make it more effective. Apart from a number of foundation and perspective courses, required for the execution of entrepreneurial ventures, a week-long workshop is scheduled followed by a prototype business plan under the mentorship of a faculty member. This will constitute as an integral part of the programme. In the last term there will be entrepreneurial conference and exhibition of individual/group business idea followed by pitching and venture funding.

The centre provides support to interested students of XLRI from different programmes – including its flagship programmes in design and conceptualization of entrepreneurial ventures in various fields of business and in obtaining institutional support – to government, other regulatory agencies and banks. Entrepreneurship Cell, a student society was established July 2012 as part of EDC, with a view to generating a conducive ecosystem for development and promotion of entrepreneurial spirit among students.
Fr Arrupe Centre for Ecology and Sustainability

Fr Arrupe Centre for Ecology and Sustainability (FACES) is a multi-disciplinary centre at XLRI, Jamshedpur, which aims to promote policies, practices and dialogue which have an impact on holistic and sustainable development of society and enterprises. The centre engages in three key activities: Knowledge Creation, Knowledge Dissemination and Knowledge Application.

JRD Tata Foundation in Business Ethics

In accordance with XLRI’s long-standing commitment and contribution to upholding integrity and ethics, the JRD Tata Foundation for Business Ethics was established in 1991. XLRI, in association with the Tata Group, seeks to publicly affirm the urgent need for ethics in business and the need to bring about an appropriate culture in which it can thrive.

Management Education Research Centre

The Management Education Research Centre (MERC) was launched in 2016. MERC intends to become a centre of excellence for studies into all aspects of management education; macro aspects like Policies, Regulation and Structure of the Sector and micro aspects like input, throughput and impact outcomes of players in the sector. Towards this end, the Centre intends to build up a repository of literature and databases, conduct research, organize conferences, conduct surveys, provide training and consultancy, develop case studies, and disseminate knowledge that is thus created.

XLRI’s Association with the Confederation of Indian Industries (CII), Jharkhand (XLERC)

XLRI, in collaboration with CII, Jharkhand, is actively involved with the management concerns of the business community in the eastern sector. With the help of CII, XLRI is developing a book of management cases drawn from the firms located in this region. Another major project is a study on the impact of infrastructural development on the socio-economic profile of the industrial and tribal areas surrounding Jamshedpur.

Tata XLRI Ethics Research Centre (TXLERC)

Started in May 2014 by Fr. Oswald Mascarenhas S.J., (JRD Tata Chair Professor of Business Ethics), under the auspices of the JRD Tata Chair for Business Ethics, Tata XLRI Ethics Research Center (TXLERC) is an innovative initiative spanning across several cross-functional areas. It has been set up with the objectives of serving as an ethics knowledge resource centre where both industry and academia will be able to find resources on business ethics and related issues under one roof. Additionally, it will serve as a knowledge repository by disseminating knowledge through Management Development Programs (MDPs) & Management Training Programs (MTPs) on business ethics for organisations and educational institutions through Faculty Development Programs (FDPs). It will also facilitate research on the status of ethics in corporate India in addition to researching, designing and developing corporate ethics processes e.g. development of code of ethics and ethical policies. Research will be conducted across three broad categories, viz, Basic Ethics Research, Applied Ethics Research and Sponsored Industry Ethics Research.
